Armstrong Completes System-Wide ‘Armstrong Neighborhood Channel’ Project

Armstrong Corporate Headquarters 4.1.25—Armstrong is pleased to announce the completion of a project that brings locally produced content to our customers 24/7 via the Armstrong Neighborhood Channel. For decades, Armstrong has connected viewers with the people, places, and events that matter to the community. From local events and original music to our award-winning specialty shows, the Armstrong Neighborhood Channel showcases the very best your region has to offer.

Over the past few months, Armstrong has converted system-specific channels into a combined offering that showcases the best local content from across the Armstrong footprint. Previously only available to EXP Stream subscribers, this enhanced channel will provide customers with 24/7 programming for and about the communities we serve, produced by award-winning Local Producers.

The Armstrong Neighborhood Channel is also available on YouTube, where it boasts nearly 12,000 subscribers. The YouTube channel features playlists organized by region, as well as by each show, and serves as an archive for Armstrong Neighborhood Channel content. Armstrong’s EXP Stream subscribers can access the playlist for their local system directly by visiting channel 100. Viewers can access the content on YouTube via YouTube.com/ArmstrongNeighborhoodChannel.
