

Superhero Training Camp Returns to Salamanca on March 28

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE — MARCH 24, 2026 — Armstrong is thrilled to announce the return of Superhero Training Camp to the Seneca Allegany Community Center (ACC) on Saturday, March 28, for a free, action-packed community event.

Rumor has it that a mischievous band of villains is plotting an attack on the ACC between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. We're calling on heroes of all ages to help defend the community and restore peace.

Participants will train their physical, mental, and emotional superpowers at more than 20 interactive stations. After completing their training, recruits will join forces in an epic showdown to reclaim the ACC from the villains.

Expect a day full of running, jumping, throwing, smashing, dancing, crawling, crafting, searching, puzzling, and plenty of surprises. And yes, there will be free prizes.

The first 200 superhero recruits to arrive will receive a free superhero cape and mask. Additional giveaways and chances to win larger prizes will be available throughout the event (Winners need not be present at the time of drawing).

Kid's Creation Market: Young Entrepreneurs Take the Stage

Happening alongside Superhero Training Camp is the Kids' Creation Market, a special vendor showcase featuring young entrepreneurs from the community. This hands-on learning experience teaches kids valuable skills in budgeting, communication, and entrepreneurship as they create and sell their own products. Attendees are encouraged to explore the market, support these rising business leaders, and help fuel their creativity while saving the town from villainy.

Do you have what it takes to sharpen your superpowers and defeat this ragtag crew of troublemakers?

Superhero Training Camp and the Kids' Creation Market are presented in partnership with Armstrong, the Seneca Allegany Community Center, Seneca Nation Indians, the Salamanca Chamber, Seven Mountains Media, and local businesses.
