

ARMSTRONG®

[FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE]

Armstrong continues its mission to provide customers with the best fiber broadband network infrastructure available. This substantial investment will bridge the digital divide and provide the communities we serve with technology of the highest quality and reliability for many years to come.

Connellsville, PA, 2.4.25—Armstrong, a leader in broadband technology, announces its plans to enhance its next-generation Advanced Fiber Network. Slated for launch in early 2025, Armstrong will provide symmetrical speeds and expand technology to over 4,500 homes and businesses in Connellsville, PA.

“The introduction of our Advanced Fiber Network marks a transformative upgrade for delivering a heightened standard of broadband internet connectivity,” Armstrong’s Vice President of Technology and Engineering Eric Svenson stated. “This technology is engineered to provide unparalleled multi-gigabit speed, reliability, ultra-low latency, and robust capacity to meet today’s connectivity demands and prepare our communities for a digital future.”

Armstrong’s Advanced Fiber Network expansion will enhance the quality of digital life in Connellsville, PA, and support the region’s economic development and educational needs, providing residents and businesses with the same high-performance broadband internet connectivity available in major urban centers.
